Why Rengo Reduces Fat

Anti-Fats and Starvation Diet Result in Wrecking of the System.

Fat as a general rule comes from the failure of the digestive organs to do their work properly. It may come also from over-eating. In these cases the fat is always some part of the food eaten which is not eliminated as it should be, but is made up in the form of fat and sent by the blood to various parts of the body. This accumulation continues constantly until within a comparatively short time, the heart becomes encased in a layer or coating of fat. The heart seems to be one of the first vital organs to be affected in this manner.

The food, therefore, in cases of fat, is not properly assimilated—that is, part of the food is retained by the body which should not be retained, and which should be thrown out. This does not always mean dyspepsia or indigestion, for one may have a very healthy stomach and yet begin to grow fat, though no apparent cause.

It is evident to any one, then, that to try to starve away the fat is both ridiculous and dangerous. It may or may not have the desired effect, but will almost certainly injure the system and will give a shock to the whole system and wreck it. The victim then becomes a subject for the sanitarium or becomes an invalid. The same thing happens by trying to use anti-fats, remedies that positively stop digestion, and thus prevent the food from being properly assimilated, and which sooner or later results in a break down of some organ and consequent disease. Bright's Disease, Nephritis, Gastritis and Neuitis may quickly follow such treatments.

Tropical fruit is and has been known for years as a remarkable regulator of the system. By a persistent use of such a mixture, the body will assume an absolutely normal condition, being neither too thin nor too large, and preserving the balance of all the organs, making the fortunate man or woman who uses it.

This is what Rengo does. It contains a tropical fruit mixture which has this faculty of perfectly assimilating food, and thus preventing the fat from being retained. It has resulted in making Rengo a marvel as a fat-reducer and a health builder.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid. Letting into the hands of the people, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you write them direct to Detroit; no free packages at drug stores.
